An Appeal to the gullant Colonel and the noble Officers of H. M.'s 9th Regiment, To the Editor of the " Daily Press." DEAN SIE. - What a wretched people we are Owing to the strange apathy of the Foreign citi zens of this Colony, we are most lamentably deprived of the innocent pleasure of witnessing the Amateur. Theatrical performances, during this cold aeason; and again in consequence of the njudicious administration of the Regatta Compuny the interest and cordiality evinced avaribly by the outside Public during previous seasons, were not at all observable this year, and hence the failure of the Regatto, and loss of amusement. Now to the gallant compandant, Colonel Wyst and the noble Officers of H. M.'s 9th Regiment, turn, and respectfully request them to favour with indulgence the public of this quiet Colony. (in the stead of the above loss of our annual amusements) by ordering their splannid and excellent Band to play twice a week instead of once as heretofore, in the Government gardens. I verily believe that the kind-hearted Colonel and the Officers will not for a moment gradge to con'er such an estimable, boon on the public in the absence of any other independent source of galety and pleasure, which are. I beg to observe, necessarily desirable in such a quiet place as Hongkong, where we are far removed from our "Homes and Hearths," some thousands of miles. Trusting the above requisition for the general benefit of the public will not go in vain .- I heg to subscribe myself, (Loud applause.—(Express.) The Austrian Meseript. The Emperor of Austria, in fulfilment, so far, of his recent change of policy, has published a rescript by which he destroys at a blow the Constitution, with the lesser Beichsrath and all the machinery constructed for the technical production of a homogeneous empire. At the same time he declures explicitly, and with unquestioned sincerity, that he does so only to clear the gound for a reconstruction of the Empire "by a constitutional form of Government whose strength and whose singificance should lie in the free participation of all the different peoples in the work." The end of this change may be the achievement by Hungary to Francis Joseph as its king. If the reconstruction of political relations between sovereign siness. and peoples be honostly carried cut in the spirit of this rescript, the next question will be. What of Venetia ? And the day may come when the honest Emperor deres face boldly that difficulty also and counting the cost of subjects who are enemics and whose subjection entails on him the hostility of their true fellow citizens in a strong neighbouring State, may find his way to a just bargain that shall restore Venetia to Italy, and turn the heetile subject into a close friend. Certain it is that persunsion will succeed no better than force in withdrawing from Italy a part of itself rich in a history essentially Italian, strong also in determination to cast off, when possible, the foreign yoke. To Austria Venice is a reproach, and as long as it shall remain part of the Austrian empire must be in it as clement of discord and decay .- Exa-

Theoretically, Austria and Prussia know nothing of these documents in which Lord Russell and M. Drouyn de Lhuys have expressed their centiments, and they are not entitled to resent or to reply to them. But, as the desputches are immediately published to the newspapers, and circulated throughout Europe, the opinions of England and France are really as effectually published, and administer as severe a rebuke to the German THE OFFICE and GODOWN situated at the Courte, as if the despatches containing them had corner of Wellington and Aberdeen Streets, Silk and Wool Mixed in best qualities Manufac been officially addressed to Berlin and Vienna, and at present in the occupation of Mesers tured This is very convenient, but it must be allowed | ELMENHORST and BANDER, that it sets a dangerous precedent. The London Con-ferences were held at the invitation of England, and there the most positive assurances were given by Austria and Prussia that the only object which the Allies had had in undertaking a war in direct contravention of al treaty to which England and France were parties, was to carry out the sincere and ardent desires of the people of the Duch'es, and to estisfy the legitimate aspirations and claims of Germany.
